How to Get Along Well with Others

As we know, "Getting along with others" is always a topic that we talk about, especially in nowadays. But how to get along well with others?

First of all, we should respect others. Everyone has their own ways of doing things, so we should understand each other. Besides, it is important for us to treat others in an honest way and learn to share our happiness and experience with others. What's more, we should communicate with each other face to face, not only on the phone or on the Internet.

If we try our best in these ways, we can get along well with each other.

Hi, Frank! You said you had just moved to a new city. You didn't know anybody there and wanted to make some friends.

The following advice may help you. First, you can ride your bike in your neighbourhood and try to find some kids. When you find some, you can go up and talk to them. You should also let your parents know that you want to make friends because they can help you. Maybe you can ask your parents to take you to the library or some places where there are lots of kids. You could try joining an art class or a sports club. These are all great ways to meet people. Try to be active wherever you are, but just be yourself and don't try so hard. It takes time and patience. I hope you will find a best friend soon!

Studying in groups is becoming more and more popular. It has many advantages. For example, we can not only save time but also encourage each other when we study in groups.

I still remember when I was in Grade 8, my physics was very poor. I had a really hard time with it. Once in class, I studied with some classmates together. I was very relaxed and asked my classmates a lot of questions about physics. I didn't feel stressed out at all. At last, I finished my homework by myself for the first time. How excited I was!

Because of studying in groups, I am not worried about physics any more. I get more confidence with my classmates' help. It also gives me more chances to improve myself in many ways.

In Western countries, many children do chores to get money.

School students have to do homework and study for exams. They don't have free time from Monday to Friday. So they do chores only on weekends.

Younger kids only do easy chores. So they don't get much money. But that's OK. Many of them only want to buy candy. And candy is cheap! They help do the dishes after dinner, and feed the family cat or dog.

When they get older, kids want to buy more things. They want things that are more expensive than candy. Then they have to work harder! They often wash the family car, cut the grass, walk the dog or cook dinner.

Doing chores is a good way for kids to learn new things. For example, they can learn how to cut grass or how to cook. Of course, their parents help them at first.

Q16: Why do children do chores only on weekends?

Q17: Which of the following do younger kids often do?

Breakfast Is Important

Breakfast is important. But not all the students have realized its importance. Here's the result of our survey. About 55 percent of the students have breakfast regularly every day. They keep healthy and look active. 25 percent of the students just have junk food instead. They don't have a balanced diet. (It is bad for their health.) 20 percent (of the students) go to school without breakfast. As a result, these students often feel hungry in class and can't listen to teachers carefully. What's worse, they get ill easily.

It's necessary/important (for us) to have breakfast and we should also have the right kinds of food for breakfast.

I'm Jane. My uncle has a farm. It is near my home. My uncle grows rice and vegetables on the farm. There are many animals, such as sheep, cows, chickens and ducks. My classmates and I often go to the farm after school. We can play with the animals, walk, read books or help my uncle to do some farm work there. We like walking or doing some reading on the farm because the air there is nice and clean.

You can see a lake on the left of the farm. There are many fish in the lake. We often go fishing on Saturdays and Sundays. We often swim in the lake in summer and skate on it in winter, too.
