My DIY — making Chinese knots

DIY is really fun. The Chinese knot is a traditional form of culture in China. Let me tell you how to make it.

We need some colourful ropes, a pair of scissors and a lighter. The colourful ropes can make our Chinese knots look vivid and beautiful.

First, cut a right length of the colourful rope with scissors. Then, make a ring at one end and fix it by burning the end a little with the lighter. Next, start to make different knots following the patterns we learned, like the double coin knot and the flat knot. We should be careful and patient when tying the knots. After tying several knots in order, adjust them to make the whole Chinese knot look nice and tidy. Finally, cut off the extra rope at the end.

Making Chinese knots is really meaningful. It is an important part of traditional Chinese culture. When we make it ourselves, we can feel the wisdom of our ancestors. Besides, it can also decorate our rooms or gifts, making them more special.

My favourite animal

My favourite animal is tigers because they are very strong and cool. Tigers are light yellow or brown and they look like large cats. They live in Asia and they usually live alone. Their teeth and claws are sharp in order to catch small animals. They like eating meat, so they often catch small animals for food. They are good at swimming and they can run very fast. Animals are our friends. Without them, we would feel very lonely. So we should try our best to protect them.

Good morning, everyone! Today I will give a speech about loving animals.

I'm in the seventh grade. I am an animal lover and love to help people and animals in need. I want to join in the group for some reasons. Firstly, I love nature. I want to do something for it. Secondly, I hope that I can learn more about animals to protect them. Some animals are in a dangerous situation now because people used to cut down trees and destroyed nature.

In my opinion, animals and humans are both parts of the nature. Animals are our friends. We have the duty to protect them.

That's all. Thank you for listening.

请听第三组对话,回答第10至13题。

W: Hello, what can I do for you?

M: Yes. I'm not good at English. I plan to join your club to improve it.

W: I see. We are sure to help you. What class would you like to choose, speaking, reading or writing?

M: I can't follow my teacher when she speaks English in class.

W: What other trouble do you have?

M: I also have trouble in writing English articles.

W: Well, all the teachers here come from the UK. They are experienced teachers. They will help you a lot. When you are free, listening to more English songs and news will help a lot. Keeping a diary is a good way to improve your written English.

M: I'll have a try. What should I do about joining the club?

W: Please fill in a form and choose the class and the time you want. And we'll call you or send an email to you when the class begins.

M: Thanks.

W: Keep trying and your English will be better soon.

The summer holiday is coming. What will you do for your holiday? During the summer holiday, some children like reading books at home. Some children would like to take part in sports games and some want to join summer camps, because they are places for children to spend their summer holidays happily. Now, there are many kinds of camps. At a sports camp, we can swim or climb. At an art camp, we can learn to paint, sing or dance. At a computer camp, we can learn more about computers and surf the Internet easily. If you don't speak English well, you can join an English camp. It gives you many chances to speak English with others.

Q17: What do some children like doing during the summer holiday?

Q18: What can children do at an art camp?

Q19: What can children do at a computer camp?

Q20: Which camp should a child join if he/she wants to speak English with others?
